Move To Trap 30 Divisions Of Nazis Along The Baltic Coast

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, Sunday, July 23.—(P)—Gen. Ivan G. Bagramian's First Baltic army, racing into the heart of Lithuania in an effort to trap 30 German divisions anchored along the Baltic coast, Saturday captured Panevezys, only 85 miles south of the Latvian capital of Riga on the Baltic sea.

Premier-Marshall Joseph Stalin in an order of the day termed Panevezys "an important stronghold in German defenses covering the main road from the Baltic to East Prussia." Its fall put Soviet columns within 80 miles of East Prussia, and within 40 miles of the rail junction of Siauliai, whose seizure would trap perhaps 300,000 German troops in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

Push Powerful Stroke

Russian troops 300 miles to the south toppled the rail junction town of Chelm, only 38 miles from the big city of Lublin and 200 miles from German Silesia, in another powerful drive into the heart of Poland, Stalin announced in another order of the day.

The daily Russian communique also announced that Soviet troops attacking in Finland had reached the Finnish-Russian border recognized by Moscow after the 1939-40 winter war, and also said that Russian troops attacking in northwestern Russia had broken into Pskov, gateway to southern Estonia and northern Latvia.

Street fighting now is going on in Pskov, the bulletin said.

Thus the Germans, torn by an internal revolt in their army, also were being hammered back in broken fragments on a front of more than 800 miles.

Advance of 45 Miles
Capture of Panevezys represented a 45-mile westward advance from Skopiskis, taken Wednesday by Bagramian's forces which cut off the German supply railway leading to Daugavpils, 85 miles east of Panevezys. The seized city is 135 miles east of the German East Prussian Baltic port of Memel.

Chelm was the first sizeable town in German-occupied Poland to fall in the Russian march toward Warsaw and central Germany. The Moscow radio in announcing its liberation played the Polish national anthem immediately after the Soviet anthem.

Racing through a total of 1,178 towns and villages, many of them great strategic prizes, eight Russian armies scored their greatest string of victories in the 30-day-old offensive.

A total of more than 5,000 Germans were captured of the remnants of four or five Axis divisions surrounded northeast of Lwow in southern Poland. That encircled enemy group now has been completely smashed, Moscow said.

Purple Heart To Pfc. Wasson
Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wasson, of R. F. D. No. 4, have received through the war department a purple heart awarded to their son, Pfc. Bishop J. Wasson, as a result of his being wounded while fighting against the Japanese in Pacific waters. In addition his mother received from him a two star ribbon signifying two battles he had participated in and also a red ribbon with white stripes showing exemplary conduct.

Following being wounded on January 2 in action, he was hospitalized in Hawaii for a considerable time. Before receiving his wound he had been in the battle of Attu in the Aleutians.

Hannegan Again Be Chairman

Roosevelt In Congratulations To Running Mate, Harry S. Truman

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

CHICAGO, July 22.—(P)—Robert E. Hannegan, of St. Louis, was reelected chairman of the Democratic National committee today and immediately pledged his efforts to accomplish a welding of all factions within the party to bring a November victory to the Roosevelt-Truman ticket.

With a cash balance of $116,000 on hand but a campaign fund of $3,000,000 to be raised, the party renamed all of its national committee officers and heard reports that Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri, the President's new running mate, probably would carry on an extensive campaign while the chief executive gives most of his time to the war.

"I'm going to find out what the national committee and the campaign-in-chief want me to do before deciding campaign plans," Truman told reporters.

At a news conference, Truman made public an exchange of congratulatory telegrams with the President while, meantime, an official announcement of his second ballot nomination for Vice President showed he received 1,031 of the convention's 1,176 votes, with Vice President Henry A. Wallace getting 105.

"I send you my heartfelt congratulations on your victory," the President's message said. "I am of course very happy to have you run with me. Let me know your plans. I shall see you very soon."

Truman replied: "Thank you, Mr. President. I am happy to be your running mate. I will be in Missouri until August 1, our primary day. I am at your command and want to see you soon."

To Resign on Committee
At the request of fellow-members, Truman said he would delay resigning the chairmanship of the special senate war investigating committee.

"I intend to resign, however," he said. "I do not want to get the committee into politics. I think it has much work to do yet."

Truman said he tried to get (Please turn to Page 4, Column 3)

Young Hug is twenty years old and is the son of Mrs. Maurine Stilman, 906 South Lamine avenue.

Admiral King To Marianas

Proposed To Keep Japan Puzzled As To Operations

By CHARLES H. MCMURTRY

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, July 22.—(P)—Adm. Ernest J. King, commander of the United States fleet, said today after personally visiting the Marianas invasion scene, within 1,500 miles of Tokyo, that the fleet now has the bases to smash directly at Japan, China and the Philippines.

Back from an inspection of newly conquered Saipan, the navy chief said the fleet will "take full advantage" of the advanced positions, keeping Japan puzzled as to where the blows may fall.

King announced he was conferring with Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief in the Pacific, on "future operations, some involving quite long range views."

Points Toward Japan
King pointed out at a press conference today that the American offensive finger is pointing to Japan, the China coast and the Philippines.

He asserted the United States may attack any or all of these from Saipan or Guam, now in the process of being retaken from the Japanese.

King also visited Kwajalein and Eniwetok in the Marshalls, the bases from which sprang the operations now ripping the inner defense ring of the enemy in the far western Pacific. King said that the present Marianas holdings of the Americans are roughly 1,500 miles from Japan, China and the Philippines, then added:

"One thousand five hundred miles is considered a fair operational radius for the fleet. That is an opportunity of which we will take full advantage."

"With that sweep through a 120 degree arc, the enemy will be puzzled as to where we hit next."

Consolidating Positions
A communique said the fifth army was consolidating positions on the south bank of the Arno, where there was heavy cannonading in duels between long-range artillery and German guns

Jack F. Austin In Solo Flight

Jack F. Austin, machinist at the Missouri Pacific shops, residing at 1204 East Ninth street, is the first man to solo at the flying school of Jack Funk at the Sedalia Municipal airfield, taking the air for that purpose Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Jack F. Austin

His take-off was with dexterity as he manipulated the stick and made three circles of the field landing each time like a seasoned aviator and with everything under perfect control.

He started his training for flying on June 28 this year and each evening after his working hours made a trip to the flying field to further his course and was sufficiently adept Friday to take the air in soloing.

Mr. Austin, who has been interested in aviation for a considerable time, was in the army for several months being at Camp Crowder in the engineers and later at Salina, Kas.

March Is Made On Florence

Patrols Within Four Miles Of Tower Of Pisa

By NOLAN NORGARD

ROME, July 22.—(P)—Three Allied columns marched on Florence tonight, with one force less than 14 miles away, while patrols on the west stabbed to within four miles of historic Pisa and its famous leaning tower.

Two fresh German divisions were thrown into battle—a captured officer's diary described them as "slackers, cripples and 47-year-olds—and the enemy from sea to sea still fell back toward the Gothic line above Florence and Pisa.

The greatest immediate threat to Florence was a fifth army column which already had fought well past Tavernelle, 14 miles south of the city on inland highway No. 2.

The British Eighth army was driving up the Arno river valley on another good road in the vicinity of Sangiovanni, 18 miles southeast of Florence.

Seventeen miles away on the southwest, doughboys seizing Castel-Florentino were in a position to strike toward Florence on a secondary road and push on north to the Arno.

As their support melted the tanks began to fall back, two were knocked out, other were damaged and the remnants drew back into Le Bon Repos.

In the last 24 hours the Germans also dared the uncertain footing and staged smaller attacks near St. Martin De Fontenay, south of Caen, and on the Peiers St. Lo road on the American front, but these netted them nothing, supreme headquarters said.

'Sub' That Snatched Gold Under Jap Guns Is Lost

By HAMILTON W. FARON

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(P)—The submarine Trout, which snatched a fabulous treasure in gold, silver and bonds from beneath the muzzles of Japanese guns in the Philippines, has been lost in action against the Japanese.

This was announced today by the navy, which disclosed that the submarine Tullibee also is overdue and presumed lost on a war patrol.

Slipping past Japanese shore batteries and into Manila Bay, early in 1942, the Trout delivered badly needed anti-aircraft ammunition to American forces then fighting valiantly to hold the fortress Corregidor.

She took on tons of gold and silver for the return trip, along with millions of dollars worth of negotiable securities.

Then her commander asked for passengers. There were none—the men and women of Corregidor were not yet ready to leave.

No estimate ever has been made public of the value of the Trout's cargo. It represented not only the coffers of the Philippine treasury, but the wealth of banks, individuals, and bullion from the island's big gold mines.

Rains Slow Up Offensive In Normandy

Allied Forces In Capture Of Three More Villages

By GLADWIN HILL

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sunday, July 23.—(P)—Despite mud which bogged down fighting along much of the Normandy front yesterday, Allied forces, after repulsing several German counter attacks, struck out in two sectors, making substantial gains and capturing at least three more villages.

The Allied offensives were balked at the key points eight miles east of Caen and at St. Lo by six-inch deep mud—the result of two days of torrential rain—but Americans and Canadians improved their positions at intermediate points.

Four miles south of Caen the Canadians in morning and afternoon drives lopped off a four-sided German salient of several square miles along the Orne, taking the towns of Etavaux and Eterville and re-occupying Maltot.

Earlier in the day headquarters had acknowledged Maltot was back in German hands.

Have New Spearhead
Forty-five miles to the west, just north of Periers, American doughboys drove several hundred yards across the Little Seves river near the town of Seves to form a new spearhead which threatened the Carentan-Periers road below the present Allied drive down the road from the northeast. The new spearhead drove to within a mile and a half of the highway.

German counterattacks, all of which were thrown back, cost them heavily in men and they lost at least 14 tanks.

In one attack southwest of Caen the Germans were moved down in heaps by British machine gunners who coolly let their tanks slip through.

The bitter fighting—in sharp contrast to the quiet everywhere else on the 100-mile front—began Friday and raged for ten hours as the German infantrymen tried repeatedly to catch up with their tanks. Associated Press Correspondent Roger D. Greene reported.

The action began north of Esquay, six miles southwest of Caen, just west of hill 112, where a week ago the Germans paid a terrible price in attempting to recapture this key height commanding the Orne-Orne river salient.

Enemy tanks in packs of four to six ploughed across the sodden wheatfields around the crossroads village of Le Bon Repos. British machine gunners laid low as they clanked past, then opened a murderous cross-fire as German infantry came up.

As their support melted the tanks began to fall back, two were knocked out, other were damaged and the remnants drew back into Le Bon Repos.

In the last 24 hours the Germans also dared the uncertain footing and staged smaller attacks near St. Martin De Fontenay, south of Caen, and on the Peiers St. Lo road on the American front, but these netted them nothing, supreme headquarters said.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(P)—Price Administrator Chester Bowles tonight ordered the ration value of creamery butter increased to 16 points a pound from 12 points, effective at 12:01 a. m. Sunday.

Destruction of a seven-year-old barn and uninsured contents consisting of 500 bushels of corn, 250 bushels of oats and 32 loads of hay—all belonging to John Streit on his farm two miles east of Clifton City—was caused by fire originating about 2:30 o'clock Monday morning.

The barn, valued at $2,500, was insured for $1,000.

U. S. Troops On Guam Making Good Progress

Two Counter Thrusts From The Japs Repulsed

By EUGENE BURNS

PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, July 22.—(P)—After repulsing two Japanese counterattacks, American forces on Guam have made satisfactory progress and secured key positions around Port Apra, main objective on the island, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said in a communique this afternoon.

On the southern front, Nimitz said, American forces captured 875 foot Mt. Alifan, overlooking Agat Town. The town is little more than two miles south of the lower sweep of the harbor.

In the north, the American secured control of a five-mile road stretch between Piti Town and Agaña. This is part of the highway leading behind the harbor.

Northern forces also gained control of Cabras Island, a two-mile sand spit at the harbor's northern stretch, occupying half of it.

Troops of the Third Marine Brigade stormed ashore at the southern end. Elements of the army's 77th infantry division landed later.

Air naval and artillery bombardments aided the troops in hurling back pre-dawn Japanese counter attacks on both beachheads, which were established first on either side of Orote peninsula, the land arm encircling the southern part of Port Apra.

In the north the Japanese directed mortar fire against the Yanks the first night after their landing Thursday. The counter-attack, beginning before dawn the next morning, was hurled back after sun-up.

When the Japanese thrust on the southern beachhead early Friday morning was thrown back the enemy left behind five tanks and approximately 270 dead.

The southern beachhead extends from Agat Town to Bangi Point.

Brig. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., La Jolla, Calif., commands the First Provisional Marine Brigade; Maj. Gen. Allen H. Turnage of Widewater, Va., heads the Third Marines, and Army Maj. Gen. A. D. Bruce of Temple, Texas, led the 77th division troops.

How The Japs Were Baited—

One of the most artful war-propaganda deceptions is bearing fruit today.

Most Americans recall the persistent declarations of our war strategists that we were determined to conclude the war with Germany before bearing down on the Japanese. Generals and admirals in the Pacific war theatre played the propaganda game by taking issue with the plan to beat Germany first, appealing for more ships, more planes, more troops to stop the Japanese.

History will probably record that the Japanese military came under the spell of this bait and relaxed a bit too much. In the meantime the United States was rapidly building up materiel and manpower for a gigantic offensive covering the entire Pacific area.

The effects of this strategy are all too evident today with the fall of Saipan, of Guam, of Tojo. Hammer-like reverses around the clock, around the globe are making the Axis partners groggy.

This is the year for two knock-out punches, we hope. In the interim, no relaxation on the home front. Let's not be fooled ourselves by the subtlety we used on the Japs.

The Fortunate Escape of Hitler—

If, as Hitlerites declare, Providence saved the Nazi dictator's life in an attempted assassination plot, who is to challenge the assertion?

Hitler's escape from a charitable and sudden death is indeed fortunate, and it is to be hoped that Providence did have a hand in his close call.

Providence must have in mind other plans for Herr Hitler, and the whole world hopes so. Hitler should become a captive of the Allies; Hitler should have a fair court trial; Hitler should undergo some of the mental pangs of a criminal on trial for his life.

Hitler's death by his own hand or by others before the war ends is not to be desired. His twitching body above a gallows might become an historical restraining example to other ambitious barbarians of coming generations.

Tortured millions of today would have it so.

Sounds Like a Chinese Word—

While making a Democratic national convention speech seconding the nomination of F. D. R., Vice-President Henry Wallace said Roosevelt's name "was cursed only by Germans, Japanese and certain American 'troglydotes.'"

Radio listeners thought it must be something nasty. Even Roy Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star in a dispatch to his newspaper, was a bit overwhelmed because he misspelled the word "troglydotes."

For the benefit of those anti-Rooseveltians, the loathsome word is defined by Webster thus:

"One of any savage race that dwells in caves, natural or artificial."

Now you Republicans know what you are, a bunch of cave-dwellers! Not so bad after all, is it? Mr. Wallace could have called them lousy troglydotes or appended that familiar but dismal B. Oooooo!

The Taxation Slot-Machine—

Why do the Republicans want to succeed the Democrats in control of the national government and inherit all the troublesome domestic and other problems including the billions of dollars of national debts?

The idea that they can rapidly reduce this debt and at the same time reduce taxes is certainly an illusion. Taxes are not going to be reduced for a long time; that is, reduced to anything comparable with financial relief for the taxpayer.

The minimum national budget is likely to be 20 billion dollars a year—twice the prewar budget. Plenty of fiscal headaches ahead.

So, the Republicans want to take over, and the Democrats want to hold on. People are funny, that way.

Portents Of Disaster—

Emperor Hirohito of Japan is "much concerned" about progress of the war and has reshuffled his cabinet; Mussolini remains on the sick list; and now Adolph is nursing burns and injuries from a bomb attack. Over them hovers the plague of disaster; ghosts of millions of dead men who might be alive today but for the vaulting ambition of these three men.

Don't Whip Poor Will—

"The Allies are in full control of the Cherbourg peninsula and may now strike at will," read a news bulletin. Which inspired the following remark from Stupe Spook: "Why do they want to strike at Will, I thought they were after Adolf!"

Bad Omen For Henry—

Vice-President Henry Wallace was delayed enroute from Washington to the Chicago Democratic convention when a locomotive pulling the train on which he was riding developed a hot box. Superstitious folk might have considered this an augury in view of the subsequent hot box on the C. I. O. fast freight that prevented Henry reaching the Vice-Presidential renomination station.

Truman's Stock Skyrockets—

Crossroads Comment, January 24, 1943:— "... Mr. Truman is taking his job seriously. Time and again his name appears with favorable comment in the press of the nation ... Increasingly public opinion is favoring Senator Truman. He is headed for greater responsibilities than a senatorship if he keeps plugging away in the manner he has been."

Crossroads Comment, October 3, 1943:—"Senator Truman's stock has gone up considerably since he entered the halls of Congress ... He is a working senator who has changed more than one man's opinion of him in the past few years."

Proof of these early observations came the past week when the Democratic convention acknowledged Truman's capabilities in public service by determining he would be an asset to the national ticket as Vice-Presidential running mate to President Roosevelt.

F. D. R.'s nod helped Senator Truman, of course, but the Missouri solon has developed a national following in his own right. With nothing like the trained and fighting organization behind Henry Wallace, Mr. Truman quietly attracted to himself delegate votes from most states in the union on the first ballot; on the second, the trend was positive and the landslide inevitable.

Senator Truman will be a vote getter for the Democratic ticket. Anti-Roosevelt Democrats momentarily are in a quandary. Especially in the midwest Truman is bound to pull votes for himself and F. D. R. that would have gone to Republicans Dewey and Bricker had Wallace been chosen as the Presidential running mate.

Missouri Republicans will feel the impact of the political strategy that placed Senator Truman on the Democratic national ticket. There is jubilation in the Democratic state and county camps. Their candidates, chief among whom is Senator Bennett Champ Clark, will become beneficiaries of whatever added strength Senator Truman brings to Missouri democracy.

What Republicans had confidently expected would be a walkaway in the November state contest, now takes on the prospect of becoming a right smart horse race.

The reason is that thousands of anti-Roosevelt voters are not going to pass up the bet of casting a ballot that has perfectly good possibilities of eventually being responsible for putting a Missourian in the White House. Incidentally, if such an occurrence should transpire, a Missourian would be the first citizen west of the Mississippi to become President of the United States.

The starting gong of the Presidential race has sounded. It's a long way to the finish line. Much can happen between now and November.

It Must Be The Heat—

Oddities in the week's news:

A bear molested in his zoo cage by a wealthy New York young woman and three companions in early morning hours showed resentment by biting and clawing the young woman's arm which required amputation at the shoulder later. The episode climaxed a late evening party ... An irate cow trampled to death an Illinois woman ... While attending a baptismal ceremony at a neighbor's house, a Colorado father had a premonition some harm had come to his son employed at a scenic boat-ride concession in a local park. Inquiry revealed the boy had burned to death when a building in the park was destroyed by fire ... A German Field Marshal ends an interview with a plea that the battle of Western Europe be fought according to "high standards of chivalry."

... In an eloquent example of discipline a million Muscovites stood silent without booing or making any demonstration as 57,000 German prisoners were marched through the streets of Moscow ... Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former minister to Norway, throws the cloak of dignity about the shoulders of Vice-President Wallace declaring there was "never a man who walked in Washington more closely in the footsteps of Christ" ... The same day Mr. Wallace engaged in an altercation with a photographer who had taken his picture, threw the man to the ground and sat astride him until the picture man agreed to take another photograph of the Vice-President in a more dignified pose ... Someone threw a bomb at Hitler and "providence" saved his life.

Ready, Aim, Fire—

We don't want to put a bad idea into anyone's head but—

If your neighbor keeps his radio going full blast until 2 a. m., give him a ring at 4 a. m. and tell him how much you enjoyed it.

Right On The Nose—

There is astounding ignorance among civilians regarding insignia and rank of members of the armed forces. One particularly dumb girl, came close to accuracy however when a friend asked what rank the Navy man had who was out with her the night before. "I think he was a chief petting officer," she replied.

Hitler Ready To Flee?—

Hitler is reported to have available a four-engine airplane ready to fly him non-stop to some destination as far as 10,000 miles away. Just where might be located Hitler's haven of safety. He wouldn't be thinking of Argentina, would he?

Job Printers Favor Campaign—

As F. D. R. remarked in his acceptance speech, political campaigning is not fitting in these days of tragic sorrow; but America is going to be treated to a dose of it anyhow. After all the job printers deserve some consideration in cleaning up on printing of campaign cards. And there's no ceiling price on them, or is there?

Colorado Rotary Club Picks War End Date—

A personal prediction that Germany will capitulate sometime during September is not an isolated one. The Rotary club of Salida, Colorado, has gone out on a limb, too, by predicting the date of the European War's end. In making up the programs for the club for the coming six months, it has chosen Monday, September 11, as a date for a "Memorial Service for Adolf Hitler" at which time the Rev. John S. George, club chaplain, will deliver a eulogy on the life and times of the little Austrian-born painter who had notions of ruling the world.

The Robe ..... Douglas

Justice Jimmy Byrnes, and out of this deadlock secure a compromise candidate.

This has been a typical Roosevelt strategy for many years — to let two sides battle it out and then pick the strongest side, or else bring a compromise out of the fray.

Inside fact is that FDR could have kept either Byrnes or Wallace out of the race by telling them frankly he didn't want them to run. But on more than one occasion, when Justice Byrnes asked him about it point-blank over the telephone, Roosevelt gave him a glowing send-off. Byrnes even took notes on what the President said.

Likewise, Wallace, although not anxious to be discarded, several times offered to step aside if the President said the word. That word never came.

Obviously, Wallace was vigorously opposed by the South, while Byrnes had his serious political handicaps in the North.

However, the President's friends say he was tired of being accused of dictating to the convention, so he decided to let the boys battle it out.

NOTE—There never seemed to be any doubt in Bob Hannegan's mind from the start that he wanted Senator Harry Truman of Missouri, the man who helped elevate him to be Democratic chairman.

However, there was terrific resentment against Hannegan from those who point out that the Democratic chairman is paid $1,500 a month by the entire party and is supposed to be neutral. He was not paid by the Truman cohorts alone.

Two Reactions on Wallace

Genial Jim Farley, avowed anti-fourth term Democrat, became plenty excited at the first report of dumping Wallace, then sat back to wait for outcome. Said Farley: "First they told me it was Barkley. I was willing to go along, but he blew up. Then they said Byrnes. Next I was told we all should go along with the Truman boom. However, I'm through hustling. I'll just sit this one out."

California's beauteous Helen Gahagan Douglas was cool, collected at the idea of answering Clare Luce's speech.

"It's easy for me to keep calm," she said. "I'm doing so much worrying about poor Henry Wallace. I don't have much time left over to worry about myself."

NOTE—At a meeting of the California delegation, the stage and screen star threatened to "move back to Brooklyn" unless the entire group went along with Wallace on the first ballot.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

In the Gentlemen's Driving club race at the fair grounds Friday afternoon James Connor's horse, "Harry B. Hawes" won in three heats. Other entries were made by Dr. W. J. Ferguson, W. H. Powell, E. H. Miller, M. B. Coleman and James McAllister.

Iron trash cans are to be placed at advantageous points at the intersection of business streets as receptacles for waste paper and an admonition was given that they be used, it was stated that the small boy in the future will have no excuse to throw dog-droppings—bills for advertising—in the streets, or sewers.

Prof. L. E. Killion, of the faculty of the Sedalia high school, and Mrs. Killion, have returned from a visit to the World's Fair in St. Louis.

The prohibitionists of Pettis county will hold a convention at the court house in this city August 6. It will be called to order

CHICAGO—Politics is a cynical game. It makes strange bedfellows. Not many of the Democratic delegates who partook of Mayor Ed Kelly's genial, well-planned hospitality realized that it is generally expected among Chicago politicians that Kelly will cut the Democratic ticket in favor of Republican Governor Dwight Green, who is up for re-election.

During the convention, most rabid critic of everything Roosevelt does or stands for was the Chicago Tribune. Cartoons, headlines, news stories all heaped sarcasm, ridicule on the Democrats at Chicago. Yet host Mayor Kelly is considered to be in a political deal with the Tribune. The paper waged no crusade against him when he ran for re-election. He is expected to back the Tribune's Governor Green in return.

In cutting the Democratic ticket, many Chicago leaders fear that Kelly can't help injuring the chances of the man whose pictures he has spread all over the city. Franklin D. Roosevelt for President and Republican Green for Governor—practically, it doesn't work out that way.

It takes a very intelligent voter to split a ticket.

Most Democratic delegates who enjoyed delightful Ed Kelly's hospitality probably didn't realize either that, when he was indicted in 1930, it was the Chicago Tribune's law firm which secretly directed his defense.

Forgotten Drive Against Bosses

Probably most of them also have forgotten the days when crusading Frank Murphy, then heading the Justice Department, began closing up the big city bosses, many of them Democratic. Murphy jailed Pendergast, Democratic boss of Kansas City and the man who gave a start to Senator Harry Truman. He also jailed Governor Leche of Louisiana, plus other New Orleans politicians, and investigated the Hague machine in Jersey City and the Kelly-Nash machine in Chicago.

Murphy actually indicted two of the Kelly-Nash key men, Bill Skidmore and Bill Johnson. Then suddenly, Attorney General Murphy was promoted to the Supreme Court of the United States. After that, only a few witnesses were called against Johnson. The U. S. Attorney's office seemed lethargic in its prosecution. However, a lost interest. Johnson is still appealing his case to higher courts, but Skidmore died in jail.

Convention Chaff

Democrats were surprised to see former GOP National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton scooting through the Stevens Hotel lobby, John said he was here on private law business, was still a Republican ... Kentucky's Senator "Happy" Chandler admitted that his brief Vice Presidential boom was a shoe string affair. Asked how he was making out, Chandler said, "Well, all it cost me was railroad fare to try." ... "The Stevens Hotel," according to Ernest Cuneo, "would be a safe place to hide during a bad storm. The hotel has more lightning rods than any place in America." Twenty Vice Presidential candidates all hoped lightning would strike them ... Mayor Kelly's special supper for convention potentates featured a long line of hula-hula night-club dancers. When the dancers came in, Kelly ordered news photographers out ... New Democratic slogan coined for campaign use is: "Are we going to let Hitler stay in and Roosevelt go out?" Hitler and Roosevelt came to power in same year, 1933 ... One reason Senator Joe Guffey agreed to head the Wallace boom was his bitter feud with Southern Senators, who excluded him from every important convention committee.

FDR's Vice-Presidential Strategy
Before the Democratic convention was many hours old, it became apparent to those around the White House that the President probably meant to kill off both Vice President Wallace and ex-

Salute to a Lady

Enlisting as a Red Cross Nurse after her American husband has been killed in action, German-born Charlotte Moore undergoes hospital training. Her particular group is called "The Foreign Legion" and includes Eurasian Mail, Brazilian Juveniles, Belgian Yvonne and English Elizabeth. They receive Army commissions upon graduation, and fly under orders to a secret destination.

Americans have just landed in North Africa, and all the nurses they are being sent to Algeria. Upon arrival, however, they are told they are to remain overnight only and then will proceed to their stations in the interior.

ARRIVAL AND WELCOME

VI
It was 6 o'clock in the morning when we gathered in front of the hospital to step into that miraculously clean station wagon for the day-long drive through Algeria. Our destination this time was revealed to us, but as it had such a $64 name it is easy for me to follow instructions and not mention it.

The drive through the country was beautiful. The road along the seacoast reminds you vividly of the Corniche between Marseille and Nice just across the Mediterranean. Deep red cliffs look down on the sapphire blue of the sea while the green of the forest contrasts with the azure of the sky.

After leaving the coast we went up through the hills and came to a road which was a masterpiece of engineering, as it wound dizzily along the side of a mountain. Here you could feel the barren emptiness of the country beyond and behind, you could see the poverty and primitiveness of the population, you could imagine their innocent simplicity, but you could not visualize a war at the end of it all!

It was midday when we came to Constantine, a romantic old town, standing out dangerously on a rocky pinnacle. We stopped in front of a suspension bridge and suddenly looked into the maw of the earth, into the depths of the Gorges de Rhummel. It is a marvelous setting: chasm, perpendicular cliffs, natural rock bridges and tunnels, houses clinging precariously to the rock walls and far beneath the silver streak of the river.

We bought some dates at the nearby open air market, where the peasants offered their goods. A very beautiful Jewish girl—she was unveiled, a fact which revealed both her religion and her beauty—while counting change, suddenly flared up and asked in French, "You are not Boches, are you?"

Her face became distorted with fear and she hesitated to pass us the dates.

"Don't you see that we all come from the Bronx?" Yvonne joked in her broadest Belgian French.

That didn't make sense to the girl. Devoid of understanding and full of distrust she stared into our smiling faces to read the truth. Elizabeth saved the situation and our dates. With the tip of her shoe she etched the sign of the swastika in the sandy ground and spat on it! That was a language the Jewish girl understood, and with a relieved smile she gave us a double amount of dates.

FROM now on our way must be shrouded in secrecy. Taut with expectation, we didn't talk much; some smoked, some slept, Mali hummed softly. She had a sweet melodious little voice, not like a radio crooner, and her wordless songs were moodily comforting.

"Isn't it strange," whispered Elizabeth who sat next to me, "four days ago we were still in California among the most care-free people, and all of a sudden we find ourselves in this wilderness headed for war. How much money we cost the government! I hope we'll be worth it."

"Here we are," said our driver, stopping somewhere in imperturbable darkness.

"Here? You mean this is it?"

"Yes, lady. This is it."

"No kidding!"
It was below his dignity to answer such an insult. We got out and opened the door. Not a sound, not a light, not a movement indicated that we were within reach of any human settlement.

"Follow me," he said.
In Indian file, as the path was too narrow to go side by side, we followed his flashlight through a grove of palms and suddenly stood in front of a white house which looked just like all the cubical townhalls of the villages we had passed through.

Without our ringing a bell or making any noise, the entrance door opened.

"Come in. Please come in quickly," said a woman's voice.

I HADN'T visualized any sort of arrival; but this one indeed, in its ghostly flavor, took our breath away.

Yet the ban broke immediately inside the house and we were welcomed with smiles, handshakes and cheers by Dr. Merrill and Miss Fryberg, the chief nurse.

We were in a large empty room, the new office and headquarters of the three-day-old Army hospital. "We need help desperately," Dr. Merrill stated briefly, "and we are impressed by the quick arrangement of your trip."

"We converted three of these barren rooms into wards. Five barracks are under construction," added Miss Fryberg in exactly the same tone and manner as the doctor.

She wore a light gray uniform, the collar and cap of which had lost the immaculateness that is a nurse's token. Dark circles of exhaustion under her eyes deceived the discipline of her voice. Her hands looked surprisingly old, her face 10 years younger. I liked and trusted her immediately though I am slow in opening my heart to a complete stranger, but her face bore that indescribable sign of great suffering which draws me to a woman without the need of words.

Dr. Merrill left the room quickly and Miss Fryberg led us to what she called the kitchen. "Help yourselves," she said.

ter at some graft disclosures which followed that conflict. His creed was:
"It doesn't do any good digging up dead horses after the war is over like the last time. The thing to do is dig this stuff up now and correct it. If we run this war program efficiently, there won't be any opportunity for someone to stir up a lot of investigations after the war, and cause a wave of revulsion that will start this country on the road to unpreparedness after the war is over."
Truman sponsored legislation for current investigation of defense contracts and won chairmanship of the senate committee to do this. He undertook the assignment with great vigor and a few months after Pearl Harbor issued a startling and documented report charging millions of dollars had been wasted in war contracts.
Investigates Many Activities
He directed a broadside at the dollar-a-year men then directing much of the war preparation program, charging many of them were still on private payrolls and in some cases actually were working as lobbyists. Subsequently the war production direction was concentrated under one man and the Truman committee, which had begun in a small way, wound up investigating nearly every phase of war administration.
As the committee's work expanded and he became better known, Truman's name began to be mentioned as a possible successor to Vice President Wallace. The discussion was centered on an investigator, his friendliness to labor and his unswerving loyalty to President Roosevelt and the new deal.

Suicide squads in circular concrete pillboxes were left behind by the Germans at curves and road forks, while north of the Arno American patrols found roadblocks and heavily-mined woodland.

Polish troops on the Adriatic sector pushed north as much as three miles and made contact with the enemy four miles from the fishing port of Senigallia, at the mouth of the Misa river. They captured a number of towns, including Montemarciano.

Hannegan Again Be Chairman

in touch with Wallace after the convention adjourned last night, but the Vice President had left for his home state of Iowa.

"I am very fond of Henry Wallace," he added. "There is one thing in all this that hurt me, and that was that I had to beat him."

Apparently in an attempt to quiet rumors that Hannegan had been using his office to promote Truman, a fellow Missourian, for the second place position on the party ticket, Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago told the national committee meeting today that Hannegan "never mentioned" Truman's name at the beginning of the race.

Hannegan started working for Truman's nomination only after he thought it was proper to do so, Kelly added.

While the National committee met to sew up the loose ends of the convention, two Massachusetts Democrats who accompanied their state's delegation to Chicago, said they were dissatisfied with the Roosevelt-Truman ticket and would campaign in New England for Republican nominees, Governors Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker.

The two are Joseph Lee, former Boston school committee member, and Charles H. McGuire, former state Democratic chairman.

Not Dewey In South

However, the national committee meeting heard this statement from the national committee woman from Alabama:

"It may rain and snow in the south, but it won't be Dewey."

A holdover controversy from the wrangling Texas delegations was decided in the national committee in favor of Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Sequin, candidate of the "regular" delegation. She was elected to the committee over Mrs. Clara Driscoll, Corpus Christi, former member who resigned but was nominated by the "Rump" convention in Texas which named a pro-Roosevelt delegation to the national convention.

Re-elected with Hannegan were Oscar R. Ewing, New York, vice chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburg, Alabama, secretary; Edwin W. Pauley, California, treasurer; Mrs. Charles W. Tillett, North Carolina, assistant chairman, and Paul Porter, Kentucky, director of publicity.

Leslie Biffle, Arkansas, was elected sergeant-at-arms, in place of Edwin A. Halsey, Virginia, who resigned because of ill health.

Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, was named assistant sergeant-at-arms.

The new national committee was confirmed during a session of oratorical pats on the back which Hannegan termed a "mutual admiration society."

Confirm Committee

CHICAGO, July 22.—(P)—The new Democratic National committee, confirmed by the party's National Convention yesterday, was made public after a committee meeting today.

The committee included: Missouri—Robert E. Hannegan and Mrs. Henry Clay Chiles.

Hitler In A Loyalty Plea From Revolters

ian front, Field Marshal Walter Von Model, commander of the Russian front, Field Marshal Fritz Von Manstein, former commander in the east, Field Marshal Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Rundstedt, former western front commander, and top-flight commanders like Field Marshal Gen. Ernst Busch, Col. Gen. Lindemann and Gen. Schoerner.

On the other hand the Nazis did make much of messages of loyalty from such relatively obscure leaders as Gen. Nikolaus Von Falkenhorst in Norway, Field Marshal Baron Maximilian Von Weichs in southeast Europe, and Field Marshal Gunter Von Kluge, commander of the Normandy front.

Considered significant also was the fact that the Nazis had not identified any of the generals involved in the plot except Col. Gen. Ludwig Beck, former chief of staff said to have been liquidated along with Col. Claus Von Stauffenberg, who planted the bomb, which was intended to kill Hitler Thursday.

The Geneva newspaper La Suisse said today that Marshal Kesselring was rumored to have been arrested on suspicion of complicity in the plot against Hitler along with two generals and two colonels of his staff, who were not named.

Claim Berlin Quiet

In the first dispatch permitted to be sent to the press of a neutral country, the Berlin correspondent for the Swiss newspaper Der Bund in Bern stated that the German capital was quiet and that the revolt was considered to have collapsed.

The correspondent said he had been informed that no incidents occurred throughout Germany and added, "as far as Berlin is concerned, I can confirm this. It was, and is, quit in Berlin."

A reserved tone in his dispatch was taken to indicate, however, that the writer either did not yet know all that had occurred or was restricted, as normally, to official information.

Hears Broadcast Of Her Husband Held Prisoner

Mrs. Fred F. Richardson, of Kansas City, the former Miss Margaret Mills, who, while attending high school resided in Sedalia with her aunt, Mrs. Margaret O'Bannon, 1320 South Ohio avenue, recently was notified by the Red Cross while she was in Colorado Springs, Colo., that her husband, Major Fred F. Richardson, would broadcast a message to her from Tokyo, where he is a prisoner of war.

The message Mrs. Richardson heard while listening to the broadcast at a Colorado Springs hotel was as follows:

"Love to you and Kiki. Received packages and letters. Send more. I am well. Love to mother and dad. Hope to see you soon. Major Fred F. Richardson."

It was the voice of Major Richardson according to his wife and Kiki, referred to in the message, is their little eight year old daughter.

Many Heard Broadcast

Mrs. Richardson has received thirty letters from people of all walks of life on the west coast, including some from the army and navy, telling her that they had heard the broadcast and many of them sending her the message in almost the exact words.

Dr. Richardson was sent by the U. S. army to the Philippines in 1940 taking with him his wife and little daughter. He was stationed at Fort Mills there where the rock of Corregidor is situated. Mrs. Richardson and Kiki returned home in May 1941 and the last news received from Maj. Richardson was just before the fall of Corregidor.

Lt. Downs In Saipan Fighting

A letter received by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Downs, 716 West Seventh street, from their son, First Lt. A. K. Downs, tells of some of his experiences in the siege of Saipan through which he went from the beginning as a member of the combat engineers.

Having sustained no injuries whatever, he said among other things that he has "learned to beat a rat into a hole during a bombing." The area, now quiet except for occasional Japanese bombings, has come under American control and "censorship has been lifted somewhat" the lieutenant reported.

He has been overseas since April, 1943. For months, he stated, their rations consisted almost wholly of canned corned beef and canned pineapple. On one occasion, Lt. Downs, who is himself a former employee of Tullis-Hall, paid $1,000 in cash for a five-gallon can of ice cream.

Following his graduation from Smith-Cotton high school here he attended Missouri University before entering the service.

For Keeping Up On Refreshments

Fifty different organizations of Pettis county have contributed the refreshments at the Saturday night dances sponsored by the USO, according to Mrs. J. C. Connor, chairman of the Food Service, during the past year, two of them serving twice.

Mrs. Connor is now planning for the year 1944-45 and the scheduled host list has expired. All organizations who would like to contribute to this public service are asked to call Mrs. Connor at telephone number 596, so she may make out her schedule for the coming year.

A friendly spirit has prevailed the past year with the organizations eager to share in serving and the servicemen have been very appreciative of this kindness. The idea of refreshments at the dances appeals to them as much as the dancing.

Doubts Truman Add Strength To Party

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—(P)—Barak T. Mattingly, Republican national committeeman for Missouri, expressed the opinion tonight that the nomination of Senator Harry S. Truman for Vice-President by the Democrats "will not add any strength to the Democratic party in Missouri."

"In the election of 1940, Truman trailed the entire Democratic state ticket with the exception of the Democratic candidate for governor, who was defeated," Mattingly said.

Waste-Fat Drive Saturday

The Girl Scouts will have their regular monthly Waste-Fat Drive on Saturday, July 29, which is the last Saturday of the month.

This is the thirteenth Waste-Fat collection to be made by the Girl Scouts and housewives are asked to have the waste-fat ready for collection between the hours of 9:00 and 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

The fat is never to black or too burned to use. Even if it has been used dozens of times—to fry onions or fish—it all produces a crystal-clear essential of ammunitions, medicines and other battlefield needs. It is so urgently needed and there is never too little to save. Enough sulfadiazine ointment that may mean life or death to thirty-five wounded men can be made from one tablespoon of used cooking fat. So housewives are asked to scrape every drop from the boiler, roaster, and skillet, to melt down fat trimmings and table scraps and to skim coups and gravies. There is never too little to strain into your salvage can.

The housewives are also reminded to keep the fat out of the refrigerators and have it ready when the Girl Scouts knock at the door.

Glider Pilots Commended

In a letter received here from Stout Field, Major General M. B. Ridgway, commanding general of the 82nd Airborne Division, commends glider pilots of the Ninth Troop Carrier Command for their action under fire in Normandy, where they transported glider-borne troops of the Division for the invasion and subsequent action against the enemy.

The general expresses to all elements of the Troop Carrier Command who participated in the transporting of the Division by glider or transport plane his "admiration for their coolness under fire, for their determination to overcome all obstacles, and for their magnificent spirit of co-operation."

Due to the assistance of Troop Carrier personnel and equipment, this famous fighting division was enabled to land on enemy-occupied territory under enemy fire. Continuing to play their part in the bitter fight in Normandy, these same Troop Carrier men provided local protection on the ground for the Division Command Post "during the most critical period when the division was under heavy attack from three sides," thus contributing toward the success of the 82nd in securing and holding its initial objectives within the first few hours of operation.

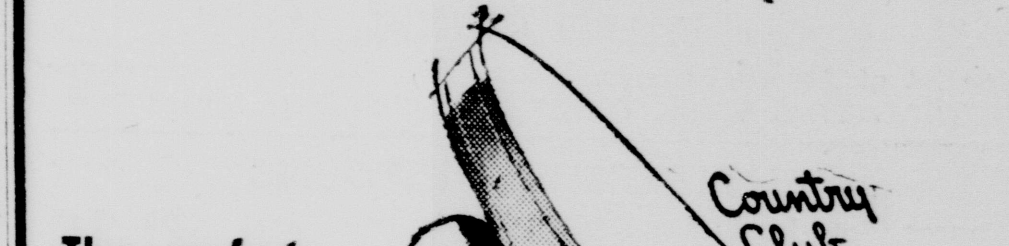

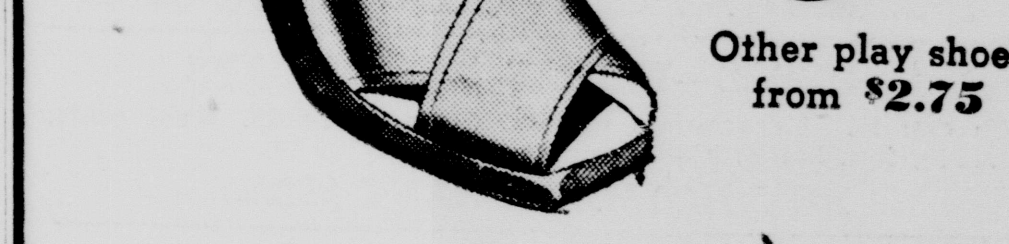

The letter from Maj Gen Ridgway was written in longhand under actual fire after the general had been landed on French soil in a glider.

Brig Gen Frederick W. Evans, commander of the 1st Troop Carrier Command, has commended all personnel of this command who have made possible the effective training of Troop Carrier crews now in action on the various fronts.

Governor Would Name Successor

JEFFERSON CITY, July 22 —(P)—Election of U. S. Sen. Harry S. Truman as vice president would give Missouri's next governor power to appoint Truman's successor for the remaining two years of his senate term which expires in January, 1947.

With Missouri's other senator Bennett Champ Clark, up for re-election this year, Truman's nomination raises the possibility of a complete turnover in this state's representation in the national senate.

Both Truman and Clark are Democrats, giving Missouri Republicans two possible chances to capture Democratic-held senate seats: either by electing a Republican to succeed Clark next November or by electing a Republican governor who would appoint a member of his own party to succeed Truman.

The present governor, Forrest C. Donnell, is a Republican, but his term expires about weeks before the inauguration of the newly elected vice president, at which time Truman probably would quit the senate if elected to the higher office. That would leave the filling of the senatorial vacancy to Donnell's successor.

SAAF Officers Sacred Heart Are In A Tie

The Annual Tourney Championship Play To Start This Week

Play in the second annual Softball Tournament will start this week at Smith-Cotton high school, with eight teams seeing action. Games are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

As a result of their final standing in the regular Twilight League schedule of play, the SAAF Officers and Sacred Heart were given first positions in the first and second brackets so these two teams will not meet each other until the last round, should they remain undefeated in the tournament. However, upsets have been the order of the day and it is entirely possible that such teams as the Reclaimers, or the USO might appear as one of the finalists, since only defeats given these teams during the regular schedule have been by one-run margins.

The schedule for the week is as follows:

Tuesday evening: SAAF Officers vs. Rosenthals, north diamond.

Reclaimers vs. Section A (Mitchell Bombers), south diamond.

Wednesday evening: Sacred Heart vs. Mo Pac Carmen, south diamond.

USO vs. Pepsi Cola, north diamond.

Eliminate The Losers

The four losers will be eliminated and the four remaining teams will continue play next week, all games in the tournament are to start at 6:54 o'clock in the evening on the Smith-Cotton high school diamonds.

In the regular league play the Officers and Sacred Heart team ended the season with five victories against one defeat. During the past week the Sacred Heart team caught up on their postponed games and won two contests, defeating the USO 5 to 4 and winning over the Mo Pac Carmen 7 to 2. The Officers also won their game from Pepsi-Cola 12 to 7.

The final standing of the league play:

TEAM	W.	L.	Pct.
Sacred Heart	5	1	.833
SAAF Officers	5	1	.833
Reclaimers	4	2	.666
Pepsi Cola	3	3	.500

Mo Pac Carmen	1	5	.167
Rosenthals	1	5	.167

Smithton Hornets To Marshall Today

This afternoon the Smithton Hornets will travel to Marshall where they will compete against the Missouri State School ball club of that place. The game is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

The State School team has played a full schedule this season, meeting teams from various other state institutions, and their record is considered to be good. The team boasts of one of the finest "smoke ball" pitchers in semi-pro baseball in this section.

Starting the season with a comparatively new aggregation, the Hornets have started clicking and are turning in some good baseball. Their record, although it does not compare with teams in form for years, shows an even split for the 1944 season in the win and lost column.

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Wall entertained Friday night with a coke party in their garden for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reavis of Tulsa, Okla. Guests were limited to friends of Mr. and Mrs. Reavis. Mrs. Oliver Stafford of Coronado, Calif., was an out-of-town guest. # Sport Scraps

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

ANYTHING for an argument—especially when the Conservation Commission is mentioned to some people—but what is the use of arguing with people who have a determined mind that they don't like anything if its good or bad. However, I don't think the Conservation Commission is bad, and again assert that Missouri's Commission has done an excellent job and will continue to do so if let alone.

Last week a flurry came up in the Constitutional Convention over the desire of a select few wanting to take forestry from the jurisdiction of the Commission and give it to the Agriculture Department. It brought hot words from Charles H. Mayer, (D), St. Joseph in reply to a caustic criticism of the Commission by Omer E. Brown (D), Ozark.

Mayer shouted, "No law can be enforced unless the people believe in it and Mr. Brown and others in the Ozarks have encouraged the people in that section not to believe in this conservation amendment." It seems that Mr. Brown is said to have indicated that pamphlets issued by the Commission for distribution in schools was one dealing with construction of bluebird houses.

"Bluebird houses," Brown is said have snorted. Then up comes Mr. Mayer to his feet in defense. Mr. Mayer then shouted "The Commission is very wisely educating Missouri's youngsters to love the wild animals and birds and not to slaughter and waste them." He continued "That's a gradual process and Missouri can't accomplish it in a month, or a year, or even 10 years."

Bird houses are small things to argue about, but they do help and give youngsters something to do in making them, makes them appreciate the birds, and in turn educates. More power to their educational program, people can stand a lot of education on wildlife.

I might point out that the Garden Clubs in Sedalia who sponsored a bird house program, which proved interesting as well as giving the boys and girls something to do. The Boy Scouts even went along and many of the boys built bird houses which were distributed to those people desiring them.

POLITICS even took on a sport light last week when the Associated Press gave comparisons of the battles in the "Main event" in the political limelight. It gave President Franklin D. Roosevelt as the defending champion and Thomas E. Dewey as challenger.

The comparison of the participants in the "main bout:"

UNDER a London date line recently, the New York Times carried a story about Joe Louis and Billy Conn, being powerless. It seems that a bomber carrying Louis and Conn almost had to make a crash landing recently, according to the Stars and Stripes. It seemed the two were being given a ride by an air force colonel and when he prepared to make a landing, found the landing gear stuck. Forty-five minutes the bomber circled the airfield, then the gear finally lowers, and they landed.

It was a case where you may be a Champion, "So What".

SAAF Troop Courier Editor Writes On Tourney Defeat

The Editor of The Troop Courier regrets to inform his readers that Pfc Bela G. Kerekes, Sports Editor, has succumbed, 6-4, 6-3, in his first round match in the tennis singles tournament. But perhaps it would be better to let him tell the—

Yeah, I'll take over, Boss, in a few million well-chosen words. You know me, Boss—I stick to facts.

Monday afternoon I get a call from the Base Gym Office, and I'm told that my match with Lt George C. Griffith is all arranged (nice guys, these Gym fellows) for 4:30 p. m. So I bounce into the Boss' office and asks him if I can leave a half hour early so I can go out and play.

He says, "Sure, Bill, go ahead." Just before I goes out, though, I opens my big mouth and says to him, "I'm going to bring the singles' trophy right into the Public Relations Office," and out I goes, full of fight.

What happens, but the sun is scorching, no breeze, and my shorts are slipping off my hips all the time. But I take it all in stride—me being a gallant guy—and play the first few games of the opening set without falling down once. Soon I get to realize that I'm putting on weight but finds out that it's an awful tired feeling I picked up sudden-like.

But I takes it all in stride—me being a gallant guy—and loses the first set. The Lt is a persistent player and wants to play the next set right away—I tries to hold out for next week when I would stop heaving my chest around in quest for air, but,

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, July 22.—Pensive, light Tear, beautiful wine-colored filly, streaked to her eleventh consecutive triumph today in winning the $80,600 Arlington classic that stamped her uncompromisingly as the outstanding three-year-old of the year.

The sensational daughter of Bull Lea-Lady Lark, leading from start to finish, scored a comparatively easy two lengths triumph over the Walmac Farms' Old Kentucky, with Pensive, Kentucky Derby-Preakness winner, third, four and a half lengths farther back. Old Kentucky made a mild stretch challenge at a time when Leon "Buddy" Haas, aboard the winner, seemed to be simply coasting to the finish.

The crowd of 23,500 made Warren Wright's Calumet Farm pair, Twilight Tear and Pensive, the shortest priced favorites in the sixteen years of classic history. They went to the post at odds of one to 50—two cents to a dollar and returned $2.20 to win. There were no place or show mutuels sold. The track management took a beating, losing $8,934.20 as the result of the entry running one-three.

In racking up her eleventh consecutive victory, Twilight Tear zipped past several milestones. First, the $62,050 net to the winners, boosted her all-time earnings to $163,400. Second, she etched her name indelibly among such great fillies as Miss Woodford, Regret, Princess Doreen, Rose of Sharon, and Topflight. Third, she undoubtedly made herself the horse of the year for 1944.

Sacred Heart Grade School Is Undefeated

Hope To Repeat In Winning Champion Of Softball League

Three weeks of play remain in the Grade School softball league, and Sacred Heart's ball club remains undefeated having taken all five games they have played. Sacred Heart is determined to capture the championship of the league in 1944 repeating their feat of 1943.

Oddly enough the closest game Sacred Heart has played to date was that with the last-place Jefferson school team recently. It was only after a spirited rally in the last inning that Sacred Heart was able to keep the slate clean.

Scores of games during the past week were as follows:

Broadway 9, Jefferson 8.
Sacred Heart 9, Horace Mann 5.

Whittier 7, Mark Twain 5.
Games scheduled for this week are:

Tuesday: Sacred Heart vs. Broadway.
Wednesday: Jefferson vs. Mark Twain.

Thursday: Whittier vs. Horace Mann.

Braves Homer Breaks Tie Beats Cards

Connie Ryan's Circuit Drives Gives Boston A 6 To 5 Victory

BOSTON, July 22.—(P)—With the score tied at 5 to 5, Connie Ryan whacked out a homer in the eighth inning with two out today to give the Boston Braves a 6 to 5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Braves got four runs off Sylvester Donnelly in the fourth after he had pitched himself out of three holes. Max Macon cleared the bases with a triple to account for the first three tallies then scored on Tommy Holmes' single.

Al Jurisith took over the pitching assignment for the Cards and allowed but three hits. Two, however, were homers by Elmer Nieman in the seventh and Ryan in the eighth.

With the Braves leading 5 to 2 in the eighth, the Cards tied the score. Hopp walked and Sanders homered. Walker Cooper singled to center, Bergamo got an intentional walk and Marty Marion's fourth hit of the game, a single, brought in Cooper.

I Have Appreciated Your Business

On March 16, 1916, I started in the grocery business at Main and Grand as the Thompson and Stumpf Grocery. In September, 1918, I purchased the Stumpf interest and operated the store on Main and Grand until December, 1939, when I moved to Seventh and Ohio.

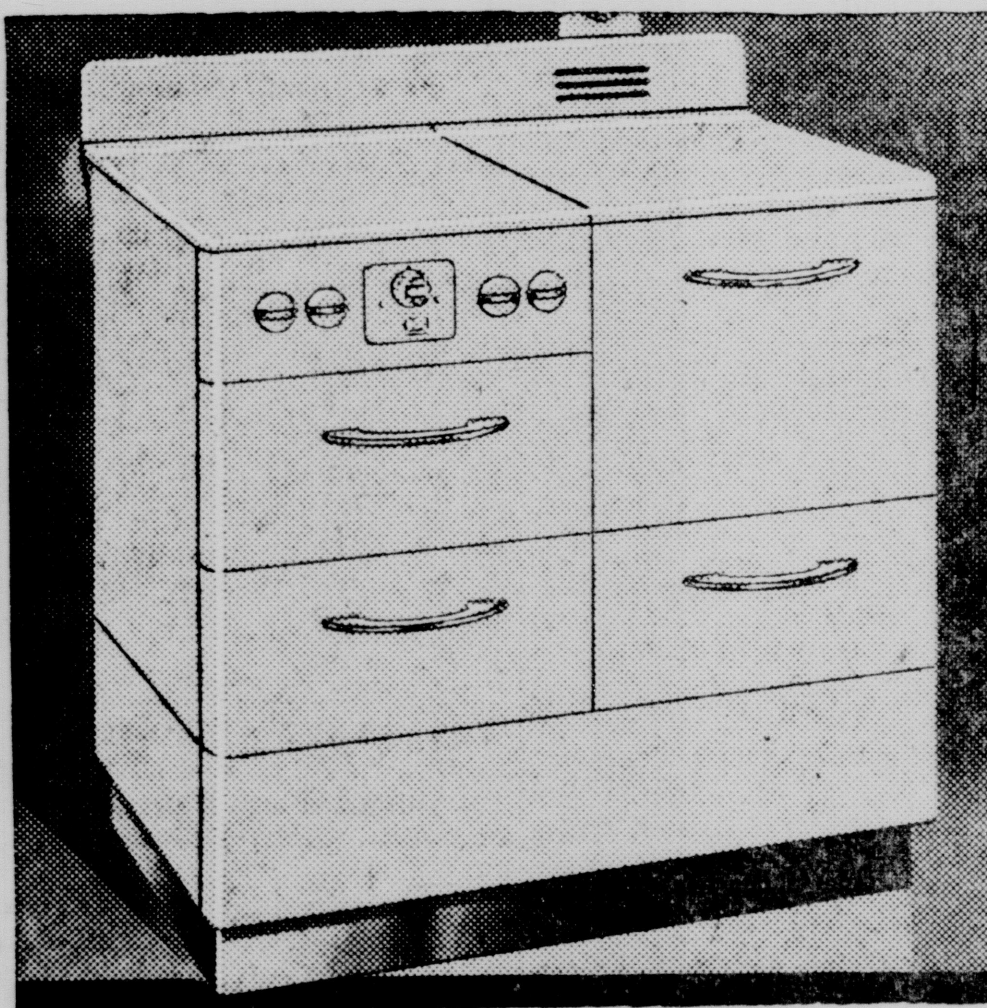

Quality merchandise and fair dealing have always been our policy, and I believe this policy has made our business a success. We have enjoyed a profitable business all of these years, and I appreciate the patronage you have given our store.

I am not leaving Sedalia as I always expect this city to be my home; however, I have other interests to attend to, and a shortage of help has been my reason for selling my grocery store.

Kenneth Middleton, who has purchased my store will continue to keep the same high standard of service and merchandise that we have always had. Middleton, together with Earl Peters, and Mrs. Van Horn, will take charge on Monday, July 24, and will welcome all of our customers, old and new.

Truman Run With Roosevelt

On The Second Ballot Chosen Over Wallace At Convention

Official Tabulation

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 22.—(P)—The final official tabulation of the second ballot for vice presidential nominee at the Democratic National convention:

Truman 1,100.
Wallace 66.
Douglas 4.
Absent 6.
Total 1,176.

Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee objected to the official announcement on the ground it did not take into account his state's 26 votes for Gov. Prentice Cooper.

Senator Samuel Jackson of Indiana, presiding, said the official records would be so changed later.

CHICAGO STADIUM, July 22.—(P)—Harry S. Truman, ten years ago a political unknown, triumphantly captured the Democratic party's nomination for vice president last night.

The Missouri Senator thus replaced Henry A. Wallace as the running mate for President Roosevelt's unprecedented fourth term bid. Wallace had led on the first ballot 429½ to 319½ but, one after another, the state delegations swarmed behind Truman on the second.

Wallace, downtown—away from the roaring stadium, expressed no regrets, saying "the cause of liberalism has been advanced" by the convention and that "of course" he would back the ticket.

From Wallace's own state of Iowa came a convention motion to make Truman's selection unanimous. But it was ruled as out of order at that time.

Receives Acclaim
Grinning and waving, Truman, the lean, gray 60-year-old chairman of the senate war investigating committee, climbed to the speaker's platform, as soon as he won his uphill battle, to receive the convention's noisy acclaim.

Although Wallace's name spelled political poison to many Dixie Democrats, the former secretary of Agriculture commanded powerful support from some elements of labor, among them the CIO political action committee.

Its chairman, Sidney Hillman, promised the Roosevelt-Truman team "our complete and wholehearted support."

Pick Newcomer
Tonight, for a second time in four years, Democrats tossed a vice-president onto the political scrap heap and picked a newcomer to meet with Roosevelt a Republican challenge to take over the national administration.

Four years ago, it was John Nance Garner who was dropped at the instigation of the chief executive. This year, the President had said he would vote personally for Wallace if he were a convention delegate, but that he likewise would add "real strength" to the ticket that will oppose the Republicans' Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker.

Democrats took the weak White House endorsement of Wallace as their cue. National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, himself a Missourian, was credited by convention delegates with engineering the Truman victory.

Have Farley's Backing
Even James A. Farley, the old political warhorse who managed Mr. Roosevelt's first two campaigns but refused to go along for the third trip, said he was going to back the convention nominees.

In his career—climaxing victory tonight, Truman told the convention:

"You don't know how very much I appreciate this very great honor which has come to the great state of Missouri.

"There is also connected with it a great responsibility which I am perfectly willing to assume."

Drive Was Set
Truman still did not have a clear cut majority the first time through the second roll call of states, but victory was just barely outside his grasp. Some states already had shifted to him and the Truman drive was all set to mow down a host of favorite son candidates.

Then, Senator John Bankhead of Alabama, although he had announced he was in the race to stay, gained recognition.

"I desire to recall my name," he told an applauding audience.

Alabama would give 22 votes to Truman, 2 to Wallace, he said.

That really was the spark which ignited the tinder. It put

First of the Troop Carrier Command glider pilots to land his motorless craft behind Japanese lines in Burma in a daring mission last March, Flight Officer Jackie Coogan, former child movie star, is scheduled to appear at SAAF as guest speaker at a concert by the SAAF Band, under the direction of W/O Thomas E. The program will take place Monday, July 24, at 1930 at the Patio outside the Service Club.

F/O Coogan, who had his training here, at Sedalia AAF, flying the leading glider in the Burma air invasion, leaped out as his glider came to a stop 160 miles behind Jap lines and fired a signal light for other approaching gliders.

"That's all we need. Come on in."

Chairman Hannegan yelled toward Mayor Edward Kelly of

Chaplain Praises A Sedalia Boy

Mrs. Lula Anderson, 602 Boonville street, last week received a letter from Fred R. Edgar, Regimental Chaplain, telling her about her son, Pfc. Frank Edwards, in the medical corps in Italy. Pfc. Anderson has been overseas a year and was previously stationed in Africa.

The letter follows:

Dear Mrs. Anderson:
I had a long talk with Frank the other day and I asked him for your address so I could write to you to tell you what a fine son you have and what a fine job he is doing.

No other group of men in this war is doing a greater service to humanity than the medical aid men. Any number of men are alive today because of the untiring efforts of these men of mercy and sympathy. They have the respect and admiration of both the men and the officers. They are doing a fine job.

Frank is well and happy and is doing his job like a red blooded American should. We are proud of him and we know that you are proud of him, too. It is men like him who have made our victories at Cassino, Anzio and Rome possible.

Write Frank when you can. Letters mean so much to the men over here.

God bless you,

Sedalia Boy Marks Cow In France

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Bell, 307 East Boonville street, have received a letter from their son, Pvt. Charles Edward Bell, who is now in France. The letter read in part: "France is more like the United States than England, but not half as good. You should try to talk to the French women. Boy, you have got a job. A good portion of French women wear wooden shoes."

He told in the letter of seeing some cows and said: "I caught one and milked her right there on the field. I used tree leaves for her to eat so she would stand still."

This is the third letter his parents have received since he was in the invasion of France and he sent them some French money. Previously, while stationed in England, he sent them money of various denominations and wrote them a letter just before the invasion on D-day in which he enclosed the instructions of General Eisenhower given to all the soldiers.

Pvt. Bell has been in service since April 1943.

GOOD NEWS always rates a smile, and Kenny Baker has plenty of cause for jubilation. Word has just come through he's to continue with his Saturday night show at 10:30 for the rest of '44.

Although it's an enviable record of having your program schedule extended from an original summer season only to a full six months, it's understandable in the case of Kenny Baker. The vibrant voiced tenor has enjoyed success in almost every musical venture he has entered, from Broadway to Hollywood, in the past ten years. And the last ten years might well be indicative of the next twenty!

ANOTHER SHOSTAKOVITCH world premiere makes its debut this Sunday via CBS and KMBC when the New York Philharmonic Symphony includes in its all-Russian program from 2 to 3:30 portions of the Shostakovitch orchestration of Moussorgsky's "Boris Godounoff" ... Alexander Kipnis, Metropolitan Opera bass, is soloist ... Music lovers will recall the radio musical highlight of 1943, when the New York Philharmonic played for the first time Shostakovitch's Eighth Symphony, the original score of which was brought to this country by Kansas City's own Bill Downs, CBS war correspondent.

FLIGHT OFFICER Jackie Coogan of movie fame is scheduled for an impromptu chat on KMBC's "Big Brother Club" this Tuesday at 5:30 p. m.

DESERVING a twenty-one gun salute but settling for a hearty pat on the back in the way of wartime restrictions, "The Romance of Helen Trent" begins its twelfth consecutive year on the network Monday, July 24, with the airing of the 2,769th script. KMBC listeners are familiar with the story—how an attractive divorcee finds she can still capture love and romance at 35! It's an 11:30 a. m. highlight in their daily radio schedule.

KMBC's "MIDLAND MINSTRELS" are watching their p's and q's these days—and we don't mean in the tenor clef. Fran Heyser, who writes the incidental chatter leading into the musical numbers, for their Monday, Wednesday and Friday shows at 2:45 p. m., is pulling a fast one on the boys.

Midland Minstrels

Without appearing to do so, Fran sits among them in the lounge, carefully listening to their casual conversation which more often than not include stories on themselves. Then the next thing the boys know, they're hearing their daily lives broadcast to thousands of listeners over the air. By the time they hear it they can offer no protest because the lighted sign over the studio door reads "On the Air!"

Decline Hits 1ne
Grain Market

By TOM WILLIAMS
CHICAGO, July 22.—Wheat futures dipped below the loan price of $1.56 today as a wave of liquidation was touched off by favorable news and belief the political situation in Germany may result in her sudden collapse.

Rye futures, expected to be most affected by peace, suffered the sharpest breaks when general selling ran the market into stop loss orders.

Relatively small selling orders in July wheat just before the close caused a sharp break as the session ended. The demand was limited and the contract, on which trading closed today, sold down to $1.55 1/2, a quarter of a cent below the loan, for a loss of 1/2 cent.

The rye market generally was weak but the July contract was independently strong. Covering of the July prior to expiration of trading was responsible for this position and reflected the scarcity of offerings of cash oats.

At the close wheat was 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents lower than yesterday's finish.
July $1.57 1/2-1.58 1/2. Oats were 1 1/2 lower, to 1 1/2 higher, July $1 1/4-1 1/2.
Rye was 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 lower, July $1.07 1/2-
$1.07. Barley was off 1/4 to 3/4, July
$1.25 1/2.

Sliders in the curb were American
Gas, Electric Bond and Share, Cities
Service, St. Regis Paper, Carrier
Corp. and Creole Petroleum. Turnover here was 193,255 shares versus 188,513 a week ago.

McKittrick Flays Clark In Address

Speaks Before Large Crowd Here At Court House

In a brief, but fiery address on the courthouse lawn Friday night, Attorney General Roy McKittrick boldly launched a verbal attack on the records of his opponent, Bennett C. Clark, in the campaign for U. S. Senator from Missouri.

Highlighting his talk was a statement in reference to the nomination of Harry S. Truman for vice-president, "I think that everyone in Missouri is proud that the Democratic party has rewarded our junior senator, Harry S. Truman, for his loyalty to the President and the Democratic party, and I am confident that the Democrats of this state will not reward the senior Senator Clark for his consistent voting against the administration and lending aid and comfort to the obstructionist Republicans."

Part Of Obstructionists
Citing instances which he claimed prove beyond doubt that the incumbent senior senator has been a part of the "obstructionist" for-

Their Work-Day: 24 Hours

For ground crews at Marine Corps Pacific island bases, there is no time-and-a-half for overtime because there is no overtime—24-hours-a-day is the working schedule, interrupted only by air raid alarms. Typical "night shift" scene is photo above, where aviation mechanics, with small generator for illumination, make repairs and adjustments on Corsair fighter, readying it for morning operations.

ces in the national law-making body, McKittrick declared, "I am not seeking to satisfy a personal ambition—I want more than that. I want to be in a position where I can help our commander-in-chief in his war policies and his peace policies."

Further endorsing the administration and commending Senator Truman, the candidate asserted his intention, if elected, to safeguard labor, the farmer, and all the postwar issues.

He said, "I promise everybody that I shall vote the will of the people of Pettis county and the will of the people of the state of Missouri."

Preceded By Concert

A 30-minute concert by Kroencke's band preceded the meeting, attended by a large crowd. Frank Hayes, a personal friend of the candidate, introduced the Rev. R. E. Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church who gave the invocation. Also introduced were all the local candidates among the audience.

Present was Judge Watler Davis, of St. Louis, candidate for nomination for the office of lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket, who spoke briefly in the interest of his own campaign.
